Democrats Raise Voices to Protest Wallace's Remarks

Tydings and Lucas Are Sharper in Criticism Than Republican Colleagues

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Leading Democrats swelled the chorus of angry Congressional blasts at Henry A. Wallace today but President Truman kept mum as the Senate prepared to resume debate on the Greek-Turkish Aid Bill.

Senators Tydings (Md.), and Lucas (Ill.), members of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, criticized Wallace in words even sharper than some of their Republican colleagues used in assailing the former vice president for his attacks in England on the President's foreign policy program.

Lucas, one of the first Democrats to raise his voice last week in protest against Wallace's statements that the United States is embarking on a career of "imperialism," told reporters:

"Henry Wallace is a merchant of confusion—selling America short."

Tydings said in an interview the former Secretary of Commerce had used "extremely bad taste" in campaigning abroad against the Greek-Turkish proposal, adding:

"Mr. Wallace does not appreciate that what he is doing is attempting to weaken the prestige of his country in one of the most critical periods of world events."

As evidence that even some of his friends think Wallace has made a mistake, Senator Downey (D-Calif.), told a reporter he believes the former cabinet member "made an unfortunate type of speech" at Manchester.

Downey often has supported legislative proposals favored by Wallace.

Nothing From Truman

The Congressional uproar against Wallace, however, thus far has elicited no corresponding response from the President.

Governor Signs Young-Demo Bill

Employers Are Assured of About 140 Millions in Tax Rebates

Albany, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—The controversial Young-Demo bill, approved by Governor Dewey, assured employers today of an estimated $140,000,000 in unemployment insurance tax rebates from the state next year.

Dewey also signed measures continuing for another year, until July 1, 1948, commercial and business rent controls in New York city.

The Young-Demo bill, besides clearing the way for continued rebates to employers, also substitutes an "experience" factor for the so-called "annual payroll" factor in helping to determine employers' credits.

This change, opponents contended, will benefit large businesses and those with stable employment and work to the disadvantage of seasonal employers and small businesses.

Continued rebates are made possible, under the bill, by reducing the required reserve of the unemployment insurance fund. Under the original law, the fund had to be maintained at a level at least four times greater than the employers' contributions of the preceding year.

Contributions in 1946, with employment at high levels, soared to $252,000,000, requiring a reserve of $1,008,000,000. The fund approximates that amount, making rebates impossible.

Reserve Is Reduced

However, the Young-Demo act reduces the required reserve to approximately $875,000,000, thus making $118,000,000 available.

Legislative Democrats and organized labor opposed adoption of the "experience" factor in computing rebates. They argued that employers with the smallest labor turnover would get proportionally greater rebates and seasonal employers would not get as much.

Rebates now are based on three factors—experience, quarterly payrolls, and longevity of the business.

Critics contended that seasonal

Cook Will Represent Two Who Evaded Police; Townsend Told to Leave City

Andrew J. Cook, Jr., assigned Monday to represent John Bruce McWhinnie, 17, and Roland Ladd, 16, two Mechanicville youths, who escaped from the local police in February, moved to have their cases disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute.

County Judge John M. Cashin before whom several other defendants were arraigned Monday, reserved decision and set a hearing for April 17 at 2 p. m.

Ladd is charged with first degree assault for having shot at Officer Carl Janasiewicz in front of the Governor Clinton Hotel during a police attempt to apprehend the youths. McWhinnie is charged with first degree robbery for the alleged theft of a purse from Mrs. Elizabeth Chichester in whose room he had taken temporary refuge during the police hunt February 17.

Ladd escaped and later gave himself up to authorities at Mechanicville, but McWhinnie was arrested after he had attempted escape from the hotel on a rear fire escape.

Burglary Dismissed

Walter "Tiny" Townsend, local boxer who took the count on December 17 when local police arrested him on a charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry for the entrance to a house at 46 Meadow street, got off with a 70-day jail sentence on his promise to get away from Kingston and attempt to make good. Townsend pleaded to a charge of unlawful entry, and the burglary charge was dismissed in County Court on application of Townsend's attorney, Charles Gaffney.

Present in court was Townsend's aunt, Mrs. Thompson from New Haven, Conn., who said Townsend had waived with her previously and she said she would take him back to New Haven and attempt to keep him out of trouble. Before imposing sentence Monday afternoon County Judge John M. Cashin called Monk Armstrong to the bench and asked him if he believed "Tiny" would try to make good. The former boxer said yes.

Bruhn Agrees

Judge Cashin cautioned Townsend to keep away from liquor, get back in training and try and become a good citizen. District Attorney G. E. Bruhn agreed to dismissal of the burglary charge of the indictment on the plea of guilty to unlawful entry being entered. Townsend waived the usual 48 hours and asked to be sentenced immediately. The sentence of 70 days was imposed because that was the time Townsend had been in jail.

The Townsend case was one of 29 on the criminal calendar which was called Monday afternoon. Walter Greene and Paul R. Shults of Kingston, who allegedly stole tires from the car of Andrew Madden on December 25, last, were arraigned. Chris J. Flanagan appeared and a plea of innocent was entered to the charge of grand larceny, second degree. Later the two offered to plead guilty to petty larceny and that plea was accepted. Sentence will be imposed on April 21 at 2 p. m.

Two Pistol Cases

Sigurd Nickamp, town of Saugerties, was arraigned on a charge of illegal possession of a pistol on January 6, last. Joseph Campbell appeared for the defendant and a plea of innocent was entered. Bail was continued and the court granted 20 days to make further motions.

Percy Partridge, charged with criminally possessing a pistol, was also arraigned. Charles H. Gaffney appeared. The illegal possession allegedly took place on January 6, 1947. Partridge waived trial by a jury and consented to have his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute, a recommendation made by the grand jury. Bail was continued and the matter will be heard at chambers on April 17 at 2 p. m.

'Baby Sitter' Check Matter

William J. Dixon, charged with forgery, second degree, in two counts alleged to have taken place on November 15 when he allegedly cashed travelers checks issued to Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock, also waived trial by a jury and sought to have his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender law. Dixon, who had served as a "baby sitter" at the Perlman house in Woodstock, is alleged to have taken the checks and cashed them and bought a gun with the money. Martin F. Comeau appeared for Dixon. Bail was continued and the matter will be

F.B.I. Rates City For Low Crime Rate

New York, April 15 (Special)—Fewer crimes were committed in Kingston during the past year, in proportion to population, than in most of the nation's cities, the F.B.I. shows in its Uniform Crime Reports, based on data turned in by chiefs of police in some 2,000 cities.

Kingston police were called upon to handle 232 crimes during the year, equivalent to a rate of 815 offenses per 100,000 population. This was lower than the national rate for cities over 25,000, which was 751 per 100,000. Figures on the six chief classes of crime are included in the survey. In Kingston larcenies led in number, with 160 reported. The other totals were burglaries 44, auto thefts, 21, assault, 4, robbery, 2, and murder, 1.

F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover noted that there was a 7.6 per cent rise in crime in 1946, with lawlessness reaching a 10-year peak. He said the indications were that juvenile delinquents of the war years were graduating into the field of more serious crime.

Reynolds' Plane Roars Eastward; Is Due East at 8 P.M.

'Bombshell' Turns Back, Refuels and Then Takes Off Again for Canada

Anchorage, Alaska, April 15 (AP)—Chicago manufacturer Milton Reynolds hurtled through the skies toward Edmonton, Alberta, and the American mainland today on the next-to-last leg of his record-seeking round-the-world flight.

The "Bombshell" plane took off from Adak in the outer Aleutians at 4:24 a. m. P.S.T. (7:24 a. m. E.S.T.) this morning after an unscheduled stop.

Reynolds listed Calgary, Alberta, and Great Falls, Mont., as alternate stops.

Reynolds said the plane turned back after passing over Adak because of heavy headwinds and because the plane's fuel supply was running low.

Previous reports that he had been forced to turn back by "mechanical difficulties" were unfounded, Reynolds informed Frank Lamb, director of the flight, in New York by telephone.

Edmonton is a little more than halfway along the 5,000 mile route from Adak to New York. Reynolds said he expected to make the trip in approximately eight hours.

The manufacturer told Lamb he planned to be in New York "about 8 p. m. tonight."

Northwest Airlines said the plane landed at Adak at 1:15 a. m. P.S.T. (4:25 a. m. E.S.T.) this morning.

Soviet Plan Not Favored By Marshall

American Secretary Still Wants Straight 'Yes' or 'No' From Reds on 40-Year Pact

No Answer Given

Marshall Is Looking for Answer to Talk Over Pact

Moscow, April 15 (AP)—U. S. officials said today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's suggested amendments to the American-proposed four-power treaty to keep Germany disarmed were unacceptable to U. S. Secretary of State Marshall as a basis of negotiation.

The informants said the American secretary still wanted a "yes" or "no" answer from the Russians on whether they are willing to agree in principle to a 40-year treaty against German aggression.

Discussion of the proposal was to be resumed this afternoon in the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Marshall was reported authoritatively as planning to take the line that Molotov's amendments represented in effect a Soviet effort to write much of the German peace settlement into the Big Four pact. The United States insists the German settlement can be effected only through regular peace conference procedure.

The generally held American view was that Molotov was trying to swamp the American treaty idea by his sweeping suggestions for redrafting the proposal at last night's session, in which he asked for everything from a special regime for the Ruhr to guarantees of land reform in Germany.

One Big Issue

The issue boiled down to this: Does Russia want to agree to Marshall's proposal that the Council of Foreign Ministers, while here assembled, agree to the appointment of plenipotentiaries empowered to negotiate a treaty which will have as its main objective keeping Germany disarmed for the next 40 years.

On this specific point, Russia has given no answer, and Marshall wants to get one.

The United States is not inclined to accept—even in the principle—most of the Soviet Union's proposals for revising the 40-year treaty originally suggested by James F. Byrnes, Marshall's predecessor.

Thus, today's session was likely to spell out in detail whether this conference of the Big Four will be a success or a failure insofar as a disarmament treaty for Germany is concerned.

Both France and Britain have

Kingstonians Vaccinated at City Clinic

There was a long line of applicants for smallpox vaccination at the clinic in the municipal building, near the Central fire station, East O'Reilly street, Monday, opening day of the free administration of vaccine to those desiring to immunize themselves against the disease. Over 600 Vaccinated; Clinic Slate Given

Monday afternoon 385 persons were vaccinated at the clinic in the municipal building, 25 East O'Reilly street, and today from 1 to 4 p. m. a long queue lined the sidewalk outside the building waiting for immunization under the direction of Dr. George James, Ulster county health commissioner. It was estimated that more than 600 would have been treated by closing time.

Similar clinics have been arranged at numerous places in the county where smallpox vaccinations will be given. This schedule has been arranged as completely as possible but there are still being scheduled additional clinics, announcement of which will be made as soon as the time and places have been determined.

In addition to the persons vaccinated at the clinic yesterday there were many others vaccinated by private physicians. In many instances physicians worked until their supply of vaccine had been exhausted.

More Vaccine Received

Prompt action on the part of Dr. James, when it was learned about the outbreak of smallpox in the state, has resulted in Ulster county receiving today a shipment of 5,000 points of vaccine, placing the county in excellent position to carry on vaccination.

The vaccine was received shortly before noon. Half of it will be made available for use at the various clinics which have been set up in the county and the balance will be made available to private physicians through the Kingston Laboratory supply station.

At the outbreak of the epidemic smallpox vaccine was in short supply and local supplies were quickly exhausted. An order was placed for 10,000 points Monday through a local drug supply house and half of that supply has now been received.

When word was received that there had been several cases of smallpox in New York city and building more economical, the manufacturer said, and it calls for less labor for the square foot, and less waste.

Jumbo brick has been produced for at least 10 years, it was reported, but the demand has been heavy enough only this year to require the change in production at area yards.

It has been produced in the Newburgh region for several years and two plants at Newburgh Bay are turning out the brick in quantity. Another plant at Coeymans is also making the brick.

Manufacture of the brick, it was said, calls for no major mechanical changes at the local plants. It requires a larger mould, but no important new machine units.

Foundation Being Dug for 2-Story Fuller Addition

Excavation is under way for the construction of a two-story and basement brick addition to the factory of The Fuller Shirt Company Inc., 45 Pine Grove avenue, Clarence S. Rowland, manager of the plant announced today.

The new structure, which will have a frontage of 92 feet and extend back 40 feet, will house the children's wear department of the factory. When completed it will give the plant a total of from 65,000 to 70,000 feet of floor space.

Another addition to the factory started some time ago is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in about two weeks.

All departments of the plant are to be changed for more efficient production, the manager said, and the moving of the departments has been started.

Henry Swart & Son is the contractor and Albert E. Milliken, the architect.

The building is expected to be completed sometime during the summer. The management said it might mean additional employees at the plant later.

Driver of Ashton Car Fined $25

New York, April 15 (Special)—A doorman of a New York hotel who struck and critically injured an 18-year-old youth while parking a Cadillac sedan owned by Benjamin N. Ashton of Kingston, was fined $25 on a dangerous driving charge in Vehicle Accident Court here this morning.

Ashton, a guest at the Biltmore Hotel here, said he gave his car to Daniel McKechnie, 51, to park, and soon afterward learned that the vehicle had gone out of control while turning a corner, leaving the curb and pinning Harold Bernhardt, a native of Callicoon, N. Y., now of 715 West 180th street, New York, against a plate-glass store window. The youth's right leg was severed.

An additional charge, of auto assault, pending against McKechnie, who lives at 53-11 37th Rd., Woodside, N. Y., will come up for hearing on Thursday.

Bernhardt, who had returned from Callicoon the day before the accident, where he had obtained a copy of his birth certificate, had just been accepted for enlistment in the Marine Corps.

5 Man Board Would Give Decisions

Both Company, Union Indicate Willingness to Try to Give Reply Today

Lived in 'Fear'

Schwollenbach Reports Feelings Over Phone Walkout

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The government waited for an answer today to its negotiation-arbitration plan for ending the nation's first cross-country telephone strike by Thursday evening.

Secretary of Labor Schwollenbach, who said he has lived "in mortal fear" during the first eight days of the walkout, asked for a decision by 5 p. m., Eastern Standard time, today.

If the Bell System and its idle employees accept, the shutdown will end 48 hours later, ten and one-half days after it began.

The plan calls for a five-man arbitration board to decide the tough money issues involved in the strike—including the union's demand for a $12 a week pay hike. The panel would have 90 days to reach a finding.

For the two remaining days of the tie-up other issues would be the subject of intense negotiations, which presumably would be extended if no agreement were reached by Thursday.

The National Federation of Telephone Workers, representing the 340,000 strike-idle employees, scheduled a meeting of its policy committee at 9 a. m.—two hours earlier than originally set—to give the government proposal "serious consideration."

Vice President C. F. Craig of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company hastened back to New York with the plan immediately after a conference of several hours last night with Schwollenbach.

Trying to Get Answer

Both the company and union indicated they were trying to get an answer ready by the 5 p. m. deadline.

In New York city a spokesman for A.T. & T. said there was "no reason to suppose there will not be" an answer by the deadline time.

Schwollenbach's proposal covers employees of companies except those in New York city, New England and Pennsylvania, the spokesman said. He said Craig would be present for consultation in the discussions in New York.

The secretary called reporters to a tense midnight news conference to announce his plan.

Saying the public had borne the brunt of the strike, the cabinet officer professed his outline of the terms with this declaration:

"I have lived in mortal fear that as a result of this strike some child will be deprived of medical care; some woman will be prevented from going to the hospital; some father or mother will suffer after being stricken—all because the telephone was not available."

Schwollenbach, his face flushed with emotion, commented: "In the public interest, this dispute must be speedily terminated."

He pointed to the tentative settlement reached last Thursday by the A.T. & T.'s long lines department and the American Union of Telephone Workers, an N.E.T.W. affiliate.

It had been rejected by the federation's policy committee "not for the reason that the settlement worked out was not a fair one, but because it applied to only one union," the secretary said.

Arbitration Issues

That proposal called for arbitration of the money demands and disposition of 81 other local issues by negotiation.

Schwollenbach unexpectedly called Craig and the union's policy committee to confer with him last night. Craig thus far has declined to bargain with the N.E.T.W. on the ten national demands, saying that negotiations must be conducted by the more than 20 operating companies throughout the nation.

The union, fighting for a more closely knit national organization sought to bargain for all its affiliated groups for the ten big demands and rejected all proposals for local arbitration of those demands.

Schwollenbach sought to compromise that difference by setting up a single board of five persons.

Democrats Raise Voices to Protest Wallace's Remarks

Tydings and Lucas Are Sharper in Criticism Than Republican Colleagues

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Leading Democrats swelled the chorus of angry Congressional blasts at Henry A. Wallace today but President Truman kept mum as the Senate prepared to resume debate on the Greek-Turkish Aid Bill.

Senators Tydings (Md.), and Lucas (Ill.), members of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, criticized Wallace in words even sharper than some of their Republican colleagues used in assailing the former vice president for his attacks in England on the President's foreign policy program.

Lucas, one of the first Democrats to raise his voice last week in protest against Wallace's statements that the United States is embarking on a career of "imperialism," told reporters:

"Henry Wallace is a merchant of confusion—selling America short."

Tydings said in an interview the former Secretary of Commerce had used "extremely bad taste" in campaigning abroad against the Greek-Turkish proposal, adding:

"Mr. Wallace does not appreciate that what he is doing is attempting to weaken the prestige of his country in one of the most critical periods of world events."

As evidence that even some of his friends think Wallace has made a mistake, Senator Downey (D-Calif.), told a reporter he believed the former cabinet member made an unfortunate type of speech at Manchester. Downey often has supported legislative proposals favored by Wallace.

Nothing from Truman

The Congressional uproar against Wallace, however, thus far has elicited no corresponding

Governor Signs Young-Demo Bill

Employers Are Assured of About 140 Millions in Tax Rebates

Albany, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—The controversial Young-Demo bill, approved by Governor Dewey, assured employers today of an estimated $140,000,000 in unemployment insurance tax rebates from the state next year.

Dewey also signed measures continuing for another year, until July 1, 1948, commercial and business rent controls in New York city.

The Young-Demo bill, besides continuing the fund for continued rebates to employers, also substitutes an "experience" factor for the so-called "annual payroll" factor in helping to determine employers' credits.

This change opponents contend will benefit large businesses and those with stable employment and work to the disadvantage of seasonal employers and small businesses.

Continued rebates are made possible under the bill by reducing the required reserve of the unemployment insurance fund. Under the original law, the fund had to be maintained at a level at least four times greater than the employers' contributions of the preceding year.

Contributions in 1946, with employment at high levels, soared to $2,224,000,000, requiring a reserve of $1,088,000,000. The fund approximates that amount, making rebates impossible.

Reserve Is Reduced

However, the Young-Demo act reduces the required reserve to approximately $875,000,000, thus making $118,000,000 available.

Legislative Democrats and organized labor opposed adoption of the "experience" factor in computing rebates. They argued that employers with the smallest labor turnover would get proportionally greater rebates and seasonal employers would not get as much.

Rebates now are based on three factors—experience, quarterly payroll and longevity of the business.

Critics contended that seasonal

5 Man Board Would Give Decisions

Both Company, Union Indicate Willingness to Try to Give Reply Today

Lived in 'Fear' Schwellenbach Reports Feelings Over Phone Walkout

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The government waited for an answer today to its negotiation-arbitration plan for ending the nation's first cross-country telephone strike by Thursday evening.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, who said he has lived "in mortal fear" during the first eight days of the walkout, asked for a decision by 5 p. m. Eastern Standard time, today.

If the Bell System and its idle employees accept, the shutdown will end 48 hours later, ten and one-half days after it began.

The plan calls for a five-man arbitration board to decide the tough money issues involved in the strike—including the union's demand for a $12 a week pay hike. The panel would have 90 days to reach a finding.

For the two remaining days of the tie-up other issues would be the subject of intense negotiations, which presumably would be extended if no agreement were reached by Thursday.

The National Federation of Telephone Workers, representing the 340,000 strike-bound employees, telegraphed a meeting of its policy committee at 9 a. m.—two hours earlier than originally set—to give the government proposal "serious consideration."

Vice President C. F. Craig of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has been ordered back to New York with the plan immediately after a conference of several hours last night with Schwellenbach.

Trying to Get Answer

Both the company and union indicated they were trying to get an answer ready by the 5 p. m. deadline.

In New York city a spokesman for A.T. & T. said there was "no reason to suppose there will not be" an answer by the deadline time.

Schwellenbach's proposal covers employees of companies except those in New York city, New England and Pennsylvania, the spokesman said. He said Craig would be present for consultation in the discussions in New York.

The secretary called reporters to a tense midnight news conference to announce his plan.

Saying the public had borne the brunt of the strike, the cabinet officer outlined the outline of the terms with this declaration:

"I have lived in mortal fear that as a result of this strike some child will be deprived of medical care; some woman will be prevented from going to the hospital; some aged mother or father will suffer after being stricken—all because the telephone was not available."

Schwellenbach, his face flushed with emotion, commented: "In the public interest, this dispute must be speedily terminated."

He pointed to the tentative settlement reached last Thursday by the A.T. & T.'s long lines department and the American Union of Telephone Workers, an N.E.T.W. affiliate.

It had been rejected by the federation's policy committee "not for the reason that the settlement worked out was not a fair one, but because it applied to only one union," the secretary said.

Arbitration Issues

That proposal called for arbitration of the money demands and disposition of 51 other local issues but no negotiation.

Schwellenbach unexpectedly called Craig and the union's top committee to confer with him last night. Craig thus far has declined to bargain with the N.E.T.W. on the ten national demands, saying that negotiations must be conducted by the more than 20 operating companies throughout the nation.

The union, fighting for a more closely knit national organization sought to bargain for all its affiliated groups for the ten big demands and rejected all proposals for local arbitration of those demands.

Schwellenbach sought to compromise that difference by setting up a single board of five persons.

Wide Search by Planes

New York, April 15 (AP)—Airplanes from bases as far apart as Newfoundland and Bermuda were ordered to search today for nine seamen believed to have been drifting on a life raft since last Friday, when their ship, The Bel-pamela, sank 800 miles east of Norfolk, Va. All the planes carry special rescue equipment that can be parachuted to the seamen—four officers and five crew members—who may have been carried toward Bermuda by ocean currents.

About 250 Railroad Fans Attend Meeting

Approximately 250 railroad fans and model builders, including 11 from this area and the Kingston Model Railroad Club, attended the spring convention of the Northeastern Region of the National Model Railroad Association, held in Schenectady Saturday and Sunday.

The Northeastern Region of the N.M.R.A. was organized in Kingston in April 1946 with 58 members, and exactly one year later the membership has passed the 200 mark.

Following registration at the Van Curler Hotel Saturday morning, the railroad enthusiasts enjoyed a fan trip and inspection tour of the West Albany shops of the New York Central Railroad. A special train consisting of nine different style cars, illustrating changes in passenger car construction over a 25-year period, transported the fans from Schenectady to the shops and return. During the evening a broadcast was heard over radio station WGY, featuring Edward Campbell of Pittsburgh, president of the National Model Railroad Association, and Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston, president of the Northeastern Region. Special railroad movies and visits to model railroad layouts formed the agenda for the balance of Saturday.

Sunday morning the business meeting of the region was held at the hotel, with President Eighmey in charge, and Henry C. Page of Kingston, as secretary-treasurer. During this meeting a model contest was held with 35 models on display.

The convention banquet was held at the Van Curler Sunday noon, with addresses by Mayor Mills TenEyck of Schenectady, J. J. Smith, plant manager of the American Locomotive Works, C. C. Bailey, transportation manager of the General Electric Company, Edward Campbell, president of the N.M.R.A., and Henry P. Eighmey, head of the region. Harold H. White of Albany acted as toastmaster.

A model of the new 2,000 horsepower diesel-electric locomotive, produced by the American Locomotive Company, was on display and was given by Alco to Robert Hornbeck of Scotia.

The convention was sponsored by members of the Albany and Scotia Model Railroad Clubs, with Raymond Schelling of Albany and R. H. Huebenthal of Scotia as co-chairmen.

Kurtz Says Agency Won't Declare Emergency

Arthur W. Kurtz, of New Paltz, president of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, has revealed the agency will not declare the existence of an emergency in the district through which students, after verification, could seek release from school duties to assist in overcoming an acute shortage of adult farm labor.

Under the plan in force during the war years, students 16 years or more could apply for release from school duties for a period of 20 days during any one term, but not more than 30 days in one year, without penalty for absenteeism, after certification by the chairman of the Farm Department executive committee.

In making his announcement to forego the declaration of an emergency, Mr. Kurtz declared the move was decided upon at a meeting of the Farm Bureau executive committee last Tuesday night when it was decided such a move is not presently justified in view of present adult unemployment.

With interest in tournament bridge steadily on the increase it keeps me on the jump to get around the country to different tournaments. It was only recently that I took time out to play for the first time in the duplicate game at my own club, the New York Athletic Club. My partner was Benjamin O. Johnson of Spartanburg, S. C., who had come up to New York to participate in the Vanderbilt Cup and Masters Individual Tournaments. Ben played a beautiful game and we came out on top in the Athletic Club duplicate.

Johnson, who was married recently, said he just could not pass the four queens in his hand over my four-heart bid. When the opening spade lead held, West shifted to the eight of clubs, and Johnson did not make the mistake of letting it ride around to his queen. He went up with dummy's ace and trumped the six of spades with the heart device.

Noting with pleasure the drop of the jack of spades, he next led a small trump to dummy's ace and ruffed the seven of spades in his own hand, dropping West's ace and establishing the ten and nine of spades in dummy.

Now Johnson picked up the trumps, cashed the queen of diamonds, led the three of diamonds to dummy's ace, then discarded one of his clubs on the diamond king and the other two on the ten and nine of spades.

What do you think railroads make?

The public thinks we make 15%

What do you think they should make?

The public thinks 10% would be fair

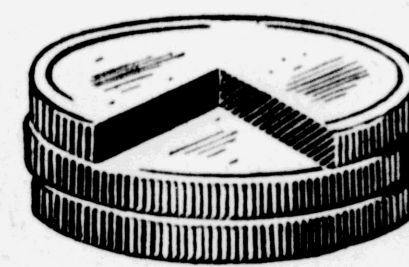

10%

What are the facts?

Actually the railroads earned only 2 3/4% in 1946.

To provide the service you want, railroads need to earn at least 6%. But estimates indicate that even with the recent freight rate increase, the return for 1947 will be only about half that requirement.

2 3/4%

Why it takes 6% to make the grade...

Impartial research polls show that, on the average, people think we make 15%. They also think a fair return would be 10%.

What We Make

But for the year 1946, with the biggest peacetime traffic in history, the railroads earned only . . . 2 3/4%. This is less than one-half the comparable earnings for other industries.

The reasons for this low return are not hard to find. Since 1939 railroad wages have increased 52 1/10% and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have gone up 61 1/10%.

But freight rates have just recently been increased an average of only 17 1/10%—a year after the effective date of the last big wage increase.

What About This Year?

It is estimated that the return for 1947, even with the recent freight rate increase, will be only about half the 6% minimum return required to provide the improvements and service needed. This will be because of increased costs of materials and supplies; because certain wage increases granted in 1946 were in effect for only part of 1946 but will be in effect for all of 1947; because of increased special payroll taxes on railroads; and because of a decline in passenger business.

What Does This Mean To You?

The answer is "Plenty!" Your standard of living is the highest in the world because of MASS PRODUCTION. But mass production would not be possible without MASS TRANSPORTATION, which the railroads provide at low cost.

Why 6% Is Needed

The kind of service your standard of living requires takes a lot of money for new equipment and improvements. To carry out the post-war improvement program for better equipment, tracks, terminals and modern safety devices, a minimum return of 6% is needed.

So when the railroads make only 2 3/4 cents on each $1.00 of their net property investment, it concerns you.*

The funds for future new equipment and improvements must come from railroad earnings and also from investors. They will furnish money on reasonable terms only if they have confidence in the future earnings of the railroads.

You Have Another Stake In This

Even if you do not own any railroad stocks or bonds, insurance companies and savings banks do. So you still have a special interest in seeing that the railroads are allowed enough to do a good job . . . for you.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

*On total property investment, the railroads made only 2.19%.

NATIONAL WANT AD WEEK

National Want Ad Week, which currently is being observed, is the occasion for the appraisal of "Advertising's Number One Public Service" and the indispensable public service rendered by classified advertising in securing such basic necessities as jobs, homes and transportation. No other medium can compete with the daily newspaper's service in this important capacity.

Neither publishers nor public knew the full value of want ads until the war came. Mobilization of industry and relief of shortages were tasks for which the classified columns of the daily newspaper seemed to have been peculiarly designed.

Since the close of the war, want ads have worked one of the larger miracles of the re-conversion period. They have helped to fit veterans and war workers back into peace jobs. They have helped to find what little shelter was to be found. They have helped to transfer scarce merchandise—millions of articles—from those who did not need it to those who needed it badly. They have run the errands and done the chores of a vast and restless population which sat up nights thinking of new errands and chores.

This year a new job is to be done. Renewed competition calls for more persuasive selling and keener buying. No longer will it be sufficient to say: "Here it is. Come and get it." Want ads now must tell why. We may see development of a new and specialized art in advertisement writing, an art resembling that of the skilled newspaper photographer, who tells his story briefly but tells the whole of it. Fortunately, want ads are adaptable to this as to every new need.

And fortunately for the daily newspapers of the country, want ads require the qualities of timeliness and intensive coverage within a given area, which only the daily paper can provide. Newspapers and want ads will continue a successful partnership.

An alarming headline read: "Police Arrest Persistent Smokers." Fortunately the article showed that factories violating the smoke ordinance were meant. But what a shock!

GARDENING

"A garden is a lovesome thing, God wot," as the poet says. And there is probably nothing to compare with it except a child. The height of felicity is reached when mother and father both get out with the children after school and working hours and dig in the pleasant earth, and plant and tend the seeds, as has been the way from Adam onward.

Yes, they get terribly dirty, and drag a lot of unnecessary dirt into the house, and so on. But it's all wholesome and useful, and from such operations come a happiness and health beyond all price. Not to mention the food when it is gathered and spread on the table, fresh and fragrant as the Lord made it.

And as, says Father with the aching back, His children labored by the sweat of their brows to help it grow.

LICENSES SUSPENDED

For drunken and reckless driving, failure to comply with safety responsibility laws and other law violations, 318,000 motorists lost their privilege to drive last year, according to a survey by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

The reckless and irresponsible is a menace to all motorists and pedestrians, and his abuse of the privilege of driving forfeits that privilege.

It's pleasant, anyhow, to think about a peaceful summer. Sure—anybody can think about it.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE PRODIGAL NATION

When the United States gives or lends or leases dollars to a foreign country, it actually provides not dollars but goods. It sends out its iron, wood, aluminum, copper, cotton, food, leather and similar goods. It sends abroad its raw materials, often irreplaceable.

No exact data has been compiled since September, 1939, when the war commenced, to show precisely how much of our raw materials has been consumed and how much is left. Manufacturers of such products as copper and steel freely speak of the huge drain on our raw materials and the peril to our national inherent in this syphoning-off of our reserves.

Recently, I discussed this with a man in the business of mining iron ore and he told me of the devastation caused to the Mesabi Range—our best deposit of high-grade iron ore—by the war. From him I got some figures concerning one of the largest iron ore mines in the Mesabi Range. These figures show the productivity of the mine, running from a high of 21,000,000 tons in 1942 to the prospect of only being able to get 4,000,000 tons out of the same mine in 1949. These are the figures:

1941	16,771,069
1942	21,401,123
1943	19,421,349
1944	18,674,190
1945	19,992,657
1946	13,497,083
1947	9,000,000
1948	6,000,000
1949	4,000,000

Obviously, that mine is being used up. I am told that precisely that is happening to all the mines in that area. In a short time, the United States will be limited to the low grade ores. The steel industry working at full capacity cannot meet American demands today; but on top of that they have to provide the steel for export which is part of our so-called commitments to the defeated and liberated nations, to friend and foe. Prices are competitively up here because there is a scarcity—a scarcity induced by war consumption and continued export.

After the war was over, it was estimated that this country had undertaken commitments to devote about $20,000,000,000 of relief and reconstruction in Europe and Asia—a figure that is additional to a war expenditure of $341,000,000,000. The commitments abroad amount to an export of natural resources and the labor of our manpower.

The question is: How much more can we continue to export? No answer has been made to that question. Neither the Executive nor the Congress has undertaken a survey of our utilization of raw materials. Nobody knows how much longer this country can continue to waste its God-given natural wealth. Nobody has worked that out in figures, although it ought to be a simple task for competent engineers, metallurgists and manufacturers. One would imagine that some of the surplus help in Washington would be willing to make this survey. Certainly, our traveling Secretary of the Interior is obligated to make it as a normal function of his office and within the metes of his extraordinary high budget.

Yet it is not being done, although new credits for the export of our materials continue to be voted. Congress has before it now two measures amounting to a total of $750,000,000, much of which will be used to export the raw materials of this country to Europe.

The trouble is that most men think in dollars, not in the commodities that dollars buy. Most men, even members of Congress, consider the measures on the assumption that we are shipping money instead of goods. It is difficult for the human mind, dealing with millions and billions, quickly to translate these fictitious terms into realistic steel, copper, coal, wood, fibres, food and their fabrications. The fault lies not in intent but in habits of mind—in habits formed when money was gold and gold had value. Today money, so called, is paper which has no value. Those who ask our aid demand value even if some day their demands will leave our cupboards bare.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

SHOULDER INJURIES

About twenty-five years ago most of the cases of pain in lower back and in sciatic nerve running down back of hip, upper and lower leg, if caused by a fall, or a misstep were thought to be due to a sprain or strain of the ligaments holding the lower bones of the spine to the hip bone. It was called sacro-lumbar sprain and relief was obtained by application of a plaster cast and wearing a belt or brace to hold the two bones forming the joint close together just as other sprained joints are supported.

During the past seven years it has been found that a number of these cases, formerly thought due to sprain, are really due to a crushed disk or cushion between the last two bones of the spine. Operation for removal of the disk is now the usual treatment. All pain from pressure on the sciatic nerve and the other nerves in the region disappears after operation.

Until recently, unless injury was severe it was not recognized that a disk could be crushed in other parts of the spinal column, but symptoms aided by X-ray have enabled physicians to find that injuries to the shoulder and head can cause a crushing of a disk in the neck region of the spine.

Just as a crushed disk in lower part of spine causes pain in hip and leg, so a crushed disk in upper or neck part of the spine can cause pain in shoulder and arm. Also just as hip and thigh muscles atrophy or waste away, so also do the shoulder and arm muscles from shoulder injuries which have crushed disk in neck.

Another similar result is that just as hip, thigh and leg lose some of their ability to move, so also is there loss of motion in neck, shoulder and arm. The neck may be slightly twisted (wry-neck) or be held in a rigid position.

Finally, just as there is numbness in legs and toes so there is numbness in arms and fingers.

As to the treatment, when X-ray confirms the diagnosis, usual treatment is removal of disk by surgery if symptoms—pain and loss of motion—are severe.

Walnut Thought "Lucky"

Irish people are the most superstitious, says a Dublin man who has made a study of charms and "cures" in which they put faith. One man whom he asked for a light produced from his pocket a box of matches and a dilapidated walnut, which he explained was a cherished possession of eight years standing. It was, he said, a charm against illness, and thousands of Irish folk believe walnuts possess strange powers. Others think if they carry a cut potato, they will never suffer from rheumatism. Others carry tiny horseshoes.

Wallace Is Considered Guilty of Bad Taste, Bad Judgment in Attacking Country's Policies

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 15—Henry Wallace of the British Labor Party's "Left Wing" who would like to see Great Britain adopt a policy of opposition to the program of the United States government in Greece and Turkey.

Mr. Wallace, by lambasting the policies of his own government, openly seeks to change those policies and to gain the support of public opinion in other countries for his views. But it can be said that he has entered for the purpose into "verbal or written correspondence" with the government of Great Britain or with the Russian government?

The problem has been complicated to Mr. Wallace's disadvantage somewhat by the use which the former vice president made of the radio facilities of the British Broadcasting Company. This is an official British government instrumentality. When Mr. Wallace availed himself of those radio facilities, he was in a sense using a governmental facility that could be construed as official intercourse. But it is quite possible that the British Broadcasting Company inquired of the American ambassador, Lewis Douglas, if he had any objection to the grant of radio facilities to Mr. Wallace. If it turns out that this did not occur but that the British government invited Mr. Wallace of its own initiative, through the British Broadcasting Company, to make a speech, it would be a consideration as to whether or not such acceptance of an invitation as dangerously close to a law violation, since it was not authorized by the American government.

But actually times have changed a good deal since the Logan Act was passed and it will be recalled that Winston Churchill made a speech at Fulton, Missouri, a year ago and the question of the propriety of such an address was raised by the Russian government. It was assumed that the President, who had asked Mr. Churchill to speak in Missouri, may have had knowledge of the subject matter of the speech but this was specifically denied. Anyway, whatever rights Winston Churchill enjoyed in the past, here might seem to be logical for Mr. Wallace to enjoy abroad.

This, however, applies only to the technical or legal phases of the matter. It is nevertheless bad taste and bad judgment for any American to go abroad and attack the policies of his own government. The punishment for this is more severe in the court of public opinion than in the phrases of the Logan Act.

NURSING

After an Operation

In tending a post-operative case, your job isn't so much nursing as just general good care. It's your duty to see that the patient gets plenty of rest and nourishment so he can resume his normal life as rapidly as possible.

Early bedtimes and afternoon naps are desirable. Encourage gentle exercise—the doctor will tell you how much and what form it should take. To stave off mid-morning and mid-afternoon exhaustion, serve the patient hot chocolate, beef bouillon or eggnog.

As the patient's wound is still draining, it will be up to you to change the dressing. By using sterilized forceps, it's possible to remove the old dressing and apply the new without ever touching the wound or the dressing.

How to change a dressing, how to make an adhesive plaster, and other details are explained by a registered nurse in our Reader Service booklet No. 81. Also gives symptoms and care of contagious diseases; emergency treatments; baby care; remedies.

endorsed the American proposal and British sources took the view that Molotov, by proposing amendments, had committed his country to entering the negotiations. Both British and French sources were optimistic on this point.

Take Dinner View

The Americans, however, took a dimmer view, expressing belief that, by insisting on approval for the Russian amendments before the appointment of plenipotentiaries, Molotov could block further consideration.

Marshall's advisers were reported much interested in a diplomatic report from Rome quoted in a Communist paper (said to be L'Unita) to the effect that the Big Four disarmament treaty would be a bad thing because it would keep the United States' fingers in European affairs for the next 40 to 50 years.

This has been called to Marshall's attention as possible evidence of the trend of Communist policy.

Top American informants contend privately that Molotov does not want a Big Four disarmament treaty along the lines proposed by Byrnes, despite the statement from Marshall that all he is asking now is agreement in principle and the appointment of plenipotentiaries to negotiate details.

Democrats Raise

expression from President Truman. Republicans have called for a statement of Mr. Truman's views and many Democrats privately have been urging such White House action.

Developments indicated, meanwhile, that the administration may seek its answer to Wallace in a rousing Senate vote in favor of the pending bill to furnish $400,000,000 in financial and limited military assistance to Greece and Turkey to bolster them against Communism.

On congressional strategists, who asked not to be quoted by name, predicted that the Senate debate would be lengthened by fresh attacks on Wallace's viewpoint during the day. But he said the net result of Wallace's efforts may be to roll up a larger vote for the measure than previously expected.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark.) and Connally (D-Tex.), joined the Wallace critics yesterday, after Republicans and Democrats had agreed to a verbal assault on the former cabinet member in the House.

McClellan said Wallace is "showing his true colors" and Connally said the former vice president "is not helping his country nor is he helping himself by his present course of conduct."

In the House, Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), said Wallace "would be shot" if he were a Russian citizen and went around the world opposing Russian foreign policy. Like Thomas Rees Cox (D-Ga.) and Rankin (D-Miss.), wanted his passport canceled, an action Rep. Rivers (D-S.C.), said would be a "favor" to Wallace.

But Rep. Granger (D-Utah), characterizing Wallace as "a Christian gentleman," said he thinks Wallace had as much right to make the statements in England as if he had made them in the United States.

"He certainly has as much right to advise the British people as (Winston) Churchill has to advise the American people," Granger said. "I disagree with the propriety and timing of the Wallace speeches. I certainly do not want to have the issue of the Greek loan submerged by attacking a great, good American, Christian gentleman such as Henry Wallace."

While all of this was going on, Soviet United Nations Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko denounced the Vandenberg amendment to the Greek-Turkish aid bill charging at Lake Success, N. Y., that it only makes the whole situation "worse." The amendment, giving the U.N. a limited veto on American action, already has been approved by the Senate.

morning, 9 hours and 1 minute after leaving Tokyo.

59 Hours Elapsed

This gave the Bombshell an elapsed time of 59 hours, 14 minutes from its takeoff time at New York at 5:11 E.S.T. Saturday.

By these figures, the converted A-26 Douglas bomber must negotiate the remaining 5,000 miles to New York in exactly 32 hours, if it is to eclipse the present global record of 91 hours, 14 minutes, set by Howard Hughes in 1938.

A small leak in a scavenger oil line was discovered by army mechanics at Tokyo while servicing the plane. The scavenger line is used in pumping oil from the crankcase to the oil tank and the leak would cause loss of oil and eventually engine trouble, airmen said. Reynolds took over the plane at Tokyo and continued the flight without waiting for repairs.

At Elmendorf Field here, army officials said mechanics had earlier been advised to stand by to make repairs of an undisclosed nature to one of the plane's landing wheels.

Earlier, the plane carrying Reynolds and his companions, William Odom of Roslyn, N. Y., and Flight Engineer Carroll Sallee of Dallas, had passed over Adak at 3:27 a. m. E.S.T., 53 minutes later than the estimated time of arrival indicated in the flight plan filed before taking off from Japan.

Reynolds took off from Yokota Army Airfield in Japan at 9:24 a. m. Tuesday (7:24 p. m. Monday E. S. T.) for the more than 3,000-mile flight to Anchorage, still confident he could reach New York short on the present record.

The plane was just 47 hours and 47 minutes out of New York when it set down in Tokyo after an uneventful 1,100-mile flight from Shanghai that took just 3 hours, 36 minutes.

Army briefing officers gave Reynolds two alternative routes to Alaska, so that the heavy plane could avoid Russian territory. Reynolds abandoned his original plan to try for a global record of 55 hours when the plane was delayed in Cairo, Egypt, Sunday for refueling and repairs. It remained on the ground for two hours and 21 minutes.

Reynolds claimed a new flying time of three hours flat between New York and Gander, Nfld. and seven hours between Gander and Paris.

The plane took off from New York city at 5:11 p. m. (E.S.T.) Saturday.

Wants Rent Decision

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The G.O.P. high command called for a decision by its House Steering Committee today on a proposed 10 per cent general increase in rent ceilings. The House Banking Committee voted for the across-the-board boost two weeks ago, 9 to 4. The Senate Banking Committee has unanimously rejected a general rent increase.

businesses such as food processing, clothing and building trades provided 30 per cent of the state's payrolls and would be unjustly penalized by the "experience" factor.

The measure was introduced by two Lewis county Republicans, Senator Fred A. Young and Assemblyman Benjamin H. Demo.

Opens Way for Increases

The major change in bills extending business and commercial rent controls in New York city opens the way for landlords to seek increases on space rented under long-term leases at abnormally low rates which were "frozen" under the state ceilings.

The bills permit landlords, either through agreement with tenants or through supreme court actions, to seek increases to levels under which comparable space was frozen.

Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, Putnam Republican who authored the rent control measures, said the modification was intended to permit landlords to raise rents of tenants who had lost term leases executed during the depression and still in effect when the state freeze went on in 1945.

Other bills signed: Authorize the state superintendent of public works to prepare preliminary plans for a state fairgrounds.

Give municipalities power to remove or abate flight hazards in the vicinity of airports.

Prohibit further establishment of privately-owned airports except upon authorization of the municipality involved.

Continue until July 1, 1948, authorization for municipal employees to join the state employees' retirement system.

$20,000 Bail for Eisler

New York, April 15 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter today fixed bail at $20,000 for Gerhart Eisler, described as the No. 1 Communist in this country, pending his appearance in Washington, D. C., to plead to two federal indictments against him. The amount was fixed over strenuous objections of U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery, who had asked that the amount be set at $25,000. McGohery charged that Eisler "has admitted being anxious to get out of the United States."

New Chemicals Will Make Hard Finishes

Atlantic City, April 15 (AP)—Spectacular new chemicals made of sand, that act like plastic quartz, that spread like paint, or make good oil, but with the durability of stone, was described to the American Chemical Society today by Dr. Charles A. Reed of the General Electric Company.

These chemicals are known as organic silicones. They are made by replacing some of the carbon in sand by a little oxygen. Dr. Reed said that they promise to cause a spectacular expansion of American chemistry.

They are expected, he said, to provide glossy auto finishes that will last the life of a car, unaffected by weather or by sunlight. They will make possible cheaper enameled kitchen stoves. They are unaffected by heat of 500 degrees or cold of 70 below zero.

The silicones make some of the toughest kinds of oil known, useful for great hydraulic processes. They can be made so that it is impossible for water to wet them.

This quality, he predicted, will be used to make better highways both for riding qualities and for durability.

Chaplin Not a Communist
New York, April 15 (AP)—Movie Actor Charles Chaplin, told a news conference "I am not a Communist," and added: "I do admit that in the early days of the war I did sympathize with Russia because she was helping hold the Allied front."

Teacher—Tommy, can you spell "fur"?

Tommy—Yes "f-u-r" fur.

Teacher—Correct. Now, tell me what fur is.

Tommy—Fur is an awful long ways off.

"How long are you going to be gone?"

"Well, approximately."

"I really don't know."

"You've no idea then just how long it will take you?"

"Not the least."

"Well, all right, I guess, I can be back by then, too."

"Splendid, don't forget I'll be looking for you."

"Sure thing. I'll be there."

Stranger—Excuse me, sir, but weren't you in my class at college?

Native—Nope. Never went to college. I learned to drink and loaf right here at home.

What a topsy turvy world this would be if it pleased everybody.

The rabid lodge and club member very much upset, called on his doctor. "It's about my wife, doc," he explained. "She suffers from insomnia so badly that sometimes she remains awake until after two in the morning. What can I do for her?" The doctor, who had known the man and his habits for years, merely grunted, "Go home earlier."

1st Senator—Do you have any factories in your state for making implements of war?

2nd Ditto—Oh, yes, we have one roll-in-pin and two flat-iron factories there.

A fellow got sixty days because he hired a woman lawyer and was too polite to tell her the facts.

Slomp—Is old Wombat drinking any more since prohibition was repealed?

Fogg—No, just the same amount. He always drank as much as he could hold.

It is a heap easier to pay the doctor who says: "Well, Boy, you just called me in time."

Mr. Groucher—Darling, I don't think you ought to give meals to all the tramps when they call here. We can't afford it.

Gnats Bites Studied

Whether Scottish midges (or gnats) bite more fiercely than the English species is the problem before four scientists of the Scottish Department of Health in Edinburgh. They go daily into the open permitting midges to bite them, so they may watch them in the act and make full notes. Some visitors to Scotland have originated the theory that the way that most active of leaping dances, the Highland fling, originated, was from Scottish kilts and midges.

Cincinnati Glee Club Shows Dynamic Power

Dynamics and fortissimo passages made the Kingston High School Auditorium ring last night as the University of Cincinnati Glee Club of 122 voices strong gave a concert. The program was sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church who were able to present the club only through special arrangements made with Sherwood Kains, director, who is conducting the group on its spring tour.

Most of the numbers demanded great crescendos in tone. Cesar Frank's "Blessed He" (Beatitudes) gave the male chorus opportunity to express itself and was joined in the last section by a glorious interweaving of the soprano and alto parts. A great deal of tonal color was used in the Carillon of Kharkov by Gaines. Probably one of the finest performances was of The Creation by Richter with its chance for dramatic interpretation.

The latter part of the program was much lighter with folk songs and several novelties. The Six Foot Four quartet sang a medley of Gay 90's tunes and also "South America Take It Away." The trumpet trio played "The Blue Jackets", by Williams; and a group of the singers with Claire Gundersman as soloist did a waltz while the club sang Tales from the Vienna Woods by Strauss. During the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic by Howe-Wilhouky, the audience was asked to join the chorus. The final numbers, school songs, were a background for Don Poynter, national champion baton twirler.

The soloists were exceptional. Betty Lee Goetz, co-winner of the W.L.W. Scholarship of the College of Music of Cincinnati, was the soprano soloist with a warm rich voice. She sang Blue Are Her Eyes by Watts; Spanish Serenade (Come Love With Me) Carneveli; and One Fine Day from "Madame Butterfly", Puccini. She also did the incidental solo in the Italian Street Song.

The concert was a triumph for Robert Wolfersteig, accompanist, who only last year was accompanying the K.H.S. A Cappella Choir on the same stage. He was introduced by Mr. Kains who played tribute to the youthful pianist, saying he was the best accompanist the university had and that he had been working with the group just the one year he has been in college. He was presented with a glee club key which is usually given only after three years of perfect attendance and unusual ability. Mr. Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig, Connelly, was graduated from Kingston High School last June and is majoring in organ at the conservatory.

The choir left immediately following the concert for New York city. They travel by their own train.

Moran Students

Visit New York

Forty students and several guests of the Moran School of Business visited New York Friday. Their tour included luncheon in the popular Grill Room of the Hotel Taft where special tables had been reserved by Miss Inez Banks, head of the committee. Vincent Lopez and his orchestra provided music.

During the afternoon, the students divided into small groups attending matinees and ball games, visiting stores, and sight-seeing. At 6:30 p. m. the entire group met at Radio City Music Hall to see the show. Attendance at Chesterfield Supper Club broadcast in the studios of the National Broadcasting Co. was the concluding feature of the day.

Clampett-Schwartz Wedding Takes Place At St. Joseph's Church

Miss Adele Wilhelmina Schwartz, daughter of Mrs. Louis Schwartz, 39 Montrepose avenue and the late Mr. Schwartz, became the bride of John Edward Clampett, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Edward McLane, 239 Wall street, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. The double ring ceremony was performed before a Nuptial Mass by the Rev. John D. Simmons.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist. Miss Virginia Guadagnolo sang Schubert's Ave Maria and O, Lord I Am Not Worthy. The church was decorated with gladioli.

The bride was escorted by her uncle, Louis C. DeVau. Her gown of white slipper satin was worn on moyer age lines with sweetheart neckline and cathedral train. She wore a full fingertip veil of bridal illusion caught with orange blossoms and attached to a calot of bridal illusion by a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of gardenias and ivy leaves.

Miss Minerva Schwartz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Donald A. Hauck, another sister, was matron of honor. They wore gowns of turquoise moire, halos of parma violet veiling, gloves and slippers to match and carried muffs of turquoise covered with parma violets.

John J. Tancredi acted as best man. Ushers were Donald A. Hauck, brother-in-law of the bride; and Albert Klein, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, of New York city.

A reception was held at the Stuyvesant Hotel. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Clampett left for a wedding trip to the South. For traveling she chose a black crepe dress, hat of black imported straw edged with multi-colored flowers, white Forstman wool topper and corsage of a purple orchid.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Clampett is also a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers' College and is a member of Theta Phi Sorority. Mr. Clampett attended Purdue University and served in the navy for 38 months.

Twentieth Century Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Richard H. D. Boerker. Wrentham street. Plans were made for the annual dinner May 19 at Ye Nieuw Dorp, Hurley.

Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor reported on bills approved by Governor Dewey. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Mize had charge of the program a Reader's Digest Topic, "The Teacher Crisis Local and National." They reviewed the story of Howard Barnard, a pioneer for education in the West, first to advocate consolidated schools. They also spoke of the salary increases won by teachers in Georgia in 1936 and of the decrease in attendance at teachers' colleges. The report also spoke of the inequality of teachers' salaries to other occupations. A long discussion followed the presentation of the topic.

The next meeting April 28 will be the annual meeting with the election of officers at the home of Miss Alice Scardfield, 317 Clinton avenue.

endorsed the American proposal and British sources took the view that Molotov, by proposing amendments, had committed his country to entering the negotiations. Both British and French sources were optimistic on this point.

Take Dinner View

The Americans, however, took a dinner view, expressing belief that, by insisting on approval for the Russian amendments before the appointment of plenipotentiaries, Molotov could block further consideration.

Marshall's advisers were reported much interested in a diplomatic report from Rome quoting a Communist paper (said to be L'Unita) to the effect that the Big Four disarmament treaty would be a bad thing because it would keep the United States' fingers in European affairs for the next 40 to 50 years.

This has been called to Marshall's attention as possible evidence of the trend of Communist policy. Top American informants contend privately that Molotov does not want a Big Four disarmament treaty along the lines proposed by Byrnes, despite the statement from Marshall that all he is asking now is agreement in principle and the appointment of plenipotentiaries to negotiate details.

Democrats Raise

expression from President Truman. Republicans have called for a statement of Mr. Truman's views and many Democrats privately have been urging such White House action.

Developments indicated, meanwhile, that the administration may seek its answer to Wallace in a routing Senate vote in favor of the pending bill to furnish $400,000,000 in financial and limited military assistance to Greece and Turkey to bolster them against Communism.

One congressional strategist, who asked not to be quoted by name, predicted that the Senate debate would be lengthened by fresh attacks on Wallace's viewpoint during the day. But he said the net result of Wallace's efforts may be to roll up a larger vote for the measure than previously expected.

Senators McClellan (D-Ark.) and Connally (D-Tex.), joined the Wallace critics yesterday, after Republicans and Democrats launched a verbal assault on the former cabinet member in the House.

McClellan said Wallace is "showing his true colors" and Connally said the former vice president "is not helping his country nor is he helping himself by his present course of conduct."

In the House, Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), said Wallace "would be shot" if he were a Russian citizen and went around the world opposing Russian foreign policy. Like Thomas Rees, Cox (D-Ga.), and Rankin (D-Miss.), wanted his passport canceled, an action Rep. Rivers (D-S.C.), said would be a "favor" to Wallace.

But Rep. Granger (D-Utah), characterizing Wallace as "a Christian gentleman," said he thinks Wallace had as much right to make the statements in England as if he had made them in the United States.

"He certainly has as much right to advise the British people as (Winston) Churchill has to advise the American people," Granger said.

"I disagree with the propriety and timing of the Wallace speeches. I certainly do not want to have the issue of the Greek loan submerged by attacking a great, good American, Christian gentleman such as Henry Wallace."

While all of this was going on, Soviet United Nations Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko denounced the Vandenberg amendment to the Greek-Turkish aid bill charging at Lake Success, N. Y., that it only makes the whole situation "worse." The amendment, giving the U.N. a limited veto on American action, already has been approved by the Senate.

Reynolds' Plane

morning, 9 hours and 1 minute after leaving Tokyo.

59 Hours Elapsed

This gave the Bombshell an elapsed time of 59 hours, 14 minutes from its takeoff time at New York at 5:11 E.S.T. Saturday.

By these figures, the converted A-26 Douglas bomber must negotiate the remaining 5,000 miles to New York in exactly 32 hours, if it is to eclipse the present global record of 91 hours, 14 minutes, set by Howard Hughes in 1938.

A small leak in a scavenger oil line was discovered by army mechanics at Tokyo while servicing the plane. The scavenger line is used in pumping oil from the crankcase to the oil tank and the leak would cause loss of oil and eventually engine trouble, airmen said. Reynolds took over the plane at Tokyo and continued the flight without waiting for repairs.

At Elmendorf Field here, army officials said mechanics had earlier been advised to stand by to make repairs of an undisclosed nature to one of the plane's landing wheels.

Earlier, the plane carrying Reynolds and his companions, William Odum of Roslyn, N. Y., and Flight Engineer Carroll Sallee of Dallas, had passed over Adak at 3:27 a. m. E.S.T., 53 minutes later than the estimated time of arrival indicated in the flight plan filed before taking off from Japan.

Reynolds took off from Yokota Army Airfield in Japan at 9:24 a. m. Tuesday (7:24 p. m. Monday E. S. T.) for the more than 3,000-mile flight to Anchorage, said confident he could reach New York short on the present record.

The plane was just 47 hours and 47 minutes out of New York when it set down in Tokyo after an uneventful 1,100-mile flight from Shanghai that took just 3 hours, 36 minutes.

Army briefing officers gave Reynolds two alternative routes to Alaska so that the heavy plane could avoid Russian territory.

Reynolds abandoned his original plan to try for a global record of 55 hours when the plane was delayed in Cairo, Egypt, Sunday for refueling and repairs. It remained on the ground for two hours and 21 minutes.

Reynolds claimed a new flying time of three hours flat between New York and Gander, Nfld, and seven hours between Gander and Paris.

The plane took off from New York city at 5:11 p. m. (E.S.T.) Saturday.

Wants Rent Decision

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The G.O.P. high command called for a decision by its House Steering Committee today on a proposed 10 per cent general increase in rent ceilings. The House Banking Committee voted for the across-the-board boost two weeks ago, 9 to 4. The Senate Banking Committee has unanimously rejected a general rent increase.

businesses such as food processing, clothing and building trades provided 30 per cent of the state's payrolls and would be unjustly penalized by the "experience" factor.

The measure was introduced by two Lewis county Republicans, Senator Fred A. Young and Assemblyman Benjamin H. Demio.

Opens Way for Increases

The major change in bills extending business and commercial rent controls in New York city opens the way for landlords to seek increases on space rented under long-term leases at abnormally low rates which were "frozen" under the state ceilings.

The bills permit landlords, either through agreement with tenants or through supreme court actions, to seek increases to levels under which comparable space was frozen.

Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, Putnam Republican who authored the rent control measures, said the modification was intended to permit landlords to raise rents of tenants who had long-term leases executed during the depression and still in effect when the state freeze went on in 1945.

Other bills signed: Authorize the state superintendent of public works to prepare preliminary plans for a state fairgrounds.

Give municipalities power to remove or abate flight hazards in the vicinity of airports.

Prohibit further establishment of privately-owned airports except upon authorization of the municipality involved.

Continue until July 1, 1948, authorization for municipal employees to join the state employees' retirement system.

$20,000 Bail for Eisler

New York, April 15 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Colter today fixed bail at $20,000 for German-born Communist, described as the No. 1 Communist in this country, pending his appearance in Washington, D. C., to plead to two federal indictments against him. The amount was fixed over strenuous objections of U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery, who had asked that the amount be set at $25,000. McGohery charged that Eisler "has admitted being anxious to get out of the United States."

New Chemicals Will Make Hard Finishes

Atlantic City, April 15 (AP)—Spectacular new chemicals made of sand, that act like plastic quartz, that spread like paint, or make good oil, but with the durability of stone, was described to the American Chemical Society today by Dr. Charles A. Reed of General Electric Company.

These chemicals are known as organic silicones. They are made by replacing some of the carbon in sand by a little oxygen. Dr. Reed said that they promise to cause a spectacular expansion of American chemistry.

They are expected, he said, to provide glossy auto finishes that will last the life of a car, unaffected by weather or by sunlight. They will make possible cheaper enameled kitchen stoves. They are unaffected by heat of 500 degrees or cold of 70 below zero.

The silicones make some of the toughest kinds of oil known, useful for great hydraulic processes. They can be made so that it is impossible for water to wet them.

This quality, he predicted, will be used to make better highways both for riding qualities and for durability.

Chaplin Not a Communist

14,000 Migrants Expected To Help State's Farmers

Coincident with the report that members of the Ulster County Vegetable Growers Cooperative were growing anxious over the delay in receiving definite information regarding what migrant labor will be available in the near future, E. K. Hanks, state supervisor of the Extension Service Farm Labor Program at Cornell University, announced that more than 14,000 out-of-state migrant workers are expected to help harvest fruit and vegetable crops throughout the state this summer.

Hanks revealed the tentative figure in announcing that working and living conditions throughout the state are being improved for the migrant workers.

The Ulster County Cooperative, which provides labor for its members, has been uncertain as to when and in what number migrant workers would be reaching here.

The importation of foreign labor made possible by congressional action during the war years is now under consideration in both House and Senate of the national government.

The bill making possible the importation of foreign labor is due to expire June 30, next. Both Senate and House have passed bills extending the present bill, with minor differences touching on the length of extension and date of liquidation of the farm labor supply bill due for consideration by the conference committee.

Supervisor Hanks announced the Extension Service Emergency Farm Labor Program has encouraged and helped farmers to improve conditions for the migrant workers by providing specialists in housing, feeding, management, labor utilization and operation of associations for handling farm labor in these fields.

Hanks declared the entire movement has been backed by progressive state legislation which provided funds for the specialists, raised minimum housing standards and required state inspection before and during operation of the camps.

New York, April 15 (AP)—

Selected stocks leaned toward recovery in today's market although buying power was relatively light and many leaders continued to falter at new lows for the year.

Slowdowns were plentiful after an active opening. Moderate irregularity was the rule near the fourth hour.

Further short covering and timid buying were credited to the idea the list may have been oversold and was entitled to a technical comeback. Hopes for a settlement of the telephone strike were helpful. Many skeptics regarding price-wage situations, business and taxes held aloof or reduced commitments.

Attracting support were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Goodyear, International Harvester, Westinghouse, du Pont, Union Carbide, Schenley, American Woolen, Standard Oil (N. J.), N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Intermittent laggards included Bethlehem Steel, Santa Fe, Norfolk and Western, Baltimore and Ohio, American Telephone, Sears Roebuck, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Anaconda, U. S. Gypsum, American Smelting, Consolidated Edison and American Can.

Bonds were mixed and commodities erratic.

Hitler Had Plan To Occupy Vatican

Stenographic Notes Tell of Frenzied Scene in His Headquarters

Frankfurt, April 15 (AP)—Adolf Hitler reacted to Benito Mussolini's resignation with a grandiose plan to move into the Vatican—"we will apologize afterwards"—and to capture the Italian king, the crown prince and the whole Italian government.

A frenzied scene at the Fuehrer's headquarters on July 25, 1943, is reflected in stenographic notes of the occasion which were found by the American army.

"Tomorrow I shall send a man down who will order the commander of the Third Panzer Division to go down to Rome with a special command group to arrest the entire government, the king, and the whole gang, but primarily to get hold of the crown prince and Badoglio and his gang," Hitler declared.

"They will see and get weak in the bones and within two or three days there will be another change."

Ambassador Hewell, German foreign office liaison officer at Hitler's headquarters, suggested: "Should we not say that the exits of the Vatican will be guarded?"

"I don't care, go into the Vatican immediately," Hitler replied. "Do you think I am afraid of the Vatican?"

"We'll get in immediately because the entire diplomatic corps sit there, and I don't care. The gang is there, the entire dirty gang. We will get them out. What does it matter? We will apologize afterwards."

"Our Worst Enemy"

Hitler characterized Italian Marshal Pietro Badoglio as "our worst enemy."

"We must make a list right now," Hitler said.

"Ciano (Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano) must naturally be included, as well as Badoglio and many others, and in the first place, the entire gang."

Badoglio naturally—dead or alive."

Hitler said a promise by those who ousted Mussolini that Italy would continue to fight was nothing but treachery—and that he would "play the same game."

He would do this, he said, by making believe he expected them to fight, while he was laying plans to capture them.

"If he cannot come, or if he doesn't and says he doesn't feel well, which would not be surprising with such a traitorous gang, well, then, I don't know."

"So and so declared, however, the war will be continued but nothing will be changed. But that is treachery, we on our part will continue to play the same game, but everything will be prepared so that in a flash-like action we can lay our hands on the entire gang."

"One thing is clear," Hitler. "This swine Badoglio has worked against us in northern Africa, here, and everywhere."

Smallpox Believed Checked in N. Y. Many Vaccinated

New York, April 15 (AP)—New Yorkers by the thousands bared their arms for smallpox vaccination today and Health Commissioner Israel Weinstein expressed belief that "the danger of a widespread epidemic has been overcome."

Dr. Weinstein said he expected the city's first smallpox outbreak since 1912, which has caused two deaths, would be held down to "a few more cases." Six persons here and four in Millbrook, N. Y., were the first to be vaccinated.

As many as 4,000 persons queued up yesterday at just one of the scores of dispensaries where the city is giving free immunization. With those cared for by private physicians, the number vaccinated may exceed 50,000.

The city ordered delivery of a million units of vaccine today and another million tomorrow, preparing to open 84 precinct stations tomorrow as vaccination stations. School immunization program also was arranged. Dr. Weinstein said the immunization program should be completed within two and a half weeks.

Three hundred members of the United Nations secretariat, including 100 U. N. personnel were vaccinated yesterday. The vaccination program has extended to the suburbs and to New Jersey.

Marshall Rejects Soviet Move to Amend Armament

Moscow, April 15 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall today rejected as out of place Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposal for amending the American-proposed Big Four treaty for disarming Germany.

Marshall asked Molotov whether he was willing to name negotiators for the first step of treaty of the United States seeks.

Recalling that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault had agreed yesterday in principle to such a pact and to naming negotiators, Marshall told the Council of Foreign Ministers:

"I should like to know whether the Soviet delegation is willing to refer this matter to plenipotentiaries for negotiation on the basis which the United States proposes."

"Yesterday we discussed the United States proposal for a four-power treaty to assure the continuing of disarmament and demilitarization of Germany," Marshall said. "We have proposed that treaty as the first step and a basic step. As the first step it would dispel the fear which is never a wise counselor. As a basic step it was simple and limited to one concrete thing namely, preventing the rearmament of Germany."

First Degree Murder Charge

Babylon, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—Raul Santiago, 21, (757 Dawson street) the Bronx, was arraigned today on a first degree murder charge in the shooting of his wife and father-in-law. Justice of the Peace Bradley Thorpe held him without bail for a hearing next Tuesday. Suffolk County District Attorney Lindsay Henry said Santiago went to police early today and told them he shot his estranged wife, Alida, 20; his father-in-law, Joseph Tirado, 48, and his mother-in-law, Isabel, also 48. Henry said the father-in-law died instantly, the wife several hours later. Mrs. Tirado, who was shot three times, is in a critical condition in South Side Hospital, Bayshore, he said.

Uniform Milk Price

New York, April 15 (AP)—C. J. Blanford, metropolitan milk marketing area administrator, says today milk production in the milkshed increased 2.7 per cent in March over the same month last year—but there will be a six cents drop in the uniform price paid dairymen. Blanford said the 45,759 producers would receive a uniform price of $4.08 hundredweight in contrast to the $4.14 return to them in the same month last year when they were paid a $3.44 uniform price plus a federal subsidy of 70 cents.

Balanced British Budget

London, April 15 (AP)—Income tax burdens were eased slightly today by Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton who laid before the House of Commons the budget for 1947-48. He announced an increase of nearly 50 per cent in import duties of tobacco leaf, 80 per cent of which is imported from the United States. Foreseeing a possible $992,000,000 surplus, Dalton announced income tax easements which he estimated would free about 750,000 persons from paying the tax.

Passengers, Cargo Taken From Ship

Queen Elizabeth Is Stuck Securely on Sandbar Off England

Southampton, Eng., April 15 (AP)—The giant liner Queen Elizabeth, stuck solidly on a sandbar eight miles off the coast, began discharging her passengers, cargo and oil to other vessels today.

The Cunard White Star liner, the world's largest passenger vessel, went aground in a fog last night while nosing her way into her home port with 2,446 passengers aboard.

Twelve tugs and the Queen Elizabeth's own mighty engines failed to budge her at high tide this morning. The Cunard offices said another effort would be made at high tide tonight after the vessel had been lightened.

First class travellers were among the first sent ashore in tenders. Crewmen, numbering about 1,000, will be the last to leave.

Divers and agents for Lloyd's of London, which carries much of the Queen's insurance, stood by to examine her bows when she shook loose from the sand. If her plates have been strained, the Queen Elizabeth may be out of service for a long time. The only drydock large enough for her repair, the George V. at Southampton, is occupied with putting a new stem on the Queen Mary.

Harbor men were pessimistic about chances of lifting the Queen tonight. One tug master predicted the ship would not be moved for three days. Another said:

"They may have to wait for the next big tide some time in June before they can move her."

Tillie Taylor's Stars Here Saturday Against Kaye Sportwair

Ex-W.I.B.C. Champ Is Rated Among Bowling's Finest

Tillie Taylor, of Englewood, N.J., one of America's most famous women bowlers will lead an all-star metropolitan aggregation against Kaye Sportwair Saturday night at the Central Recs at 8:30.

Miss Taylor, a former W.I.B.C. and World-Telegram Individual Classic champion, is regarded as one of the greatest women bowlers of all time.

Appearing with the Taylor All Stars will be four metropolitan standouts — Eleanor Thompson, Pauline Balga, Dot McGovern and Marion Kaiser. The first three were members of the American Bowling and Billiards women's squad, while Mrs. Kaiser is a veteran performer regarded as New Jersey's best.

All five members of the Taylor squad are averaging better than 170 in the Metropolitan League. Miss Taylor anchors the powerful Trent Bar Five which is battling the Hillenbachs for first place.

Kayes Without Moore
After being forced to roll Schenectady without Rose Schatzel last week-end, the Kaye squad will be without the services of their stellar leadoff—Evelyn Moore—for Saturday's crucial test. Miss Moore will be rolling in the state tournament in Syracuse.

Taylor's squad is rated the most colorful in the East. The five women are not only topflight bowlers but excellent showmen and put on a real show.

Kayes with a record of 13 victories in 14 matches are definitely on the spot against the high-powered aggregation last night.

Governor Signs Bill
Curbing Pro Boxing
Albany, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—All participants in professional boxing and wrestling matches in New York state must be licensed under a new law.

The measure, signed yesterday by Governor Dewey, writes into state law present State Athletic Commission requirements and makes violations punishable as misdemeanors. It is effective immediately.

Required to obtain licenses are professional boxers and wrestlers, managers, trainers, seconds, physicians, referees, judges, matchmakers, timekeepers, corporation treasurers, box office employees, announcers and special policemen. Republican Senator Irwin Palka of Long Island City, the sponsor, said the bill was aimed at "undercover managers."

The maximum penalty for a misdemeanor is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

Baksi-Woodcock Heavyweight Bout In London Tonight

London, April 15 (AP)—The goal of their ring careers—a fight with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight title—is just around the ring-posts in the ten-round bout tonight between Bruce Woodcock and Joe Baksi.

Nat Rogers, New York matchmaker, promised to be one of the first into the winner's dressing room with a contract for the new white hope to tackle the Brown Bomber in America next June.

Nearly 11,000 fans, paying 21 pounds ($84) for ringside pews in Harringay Arena, will cheer Woodcock in his crusade to make Baksi, former Pennsylvania coal miner, just another ex-challenger for the heavyweight crown.

The 26-year-old British champion was the first to check into London from his training camp and was welcomed at the railroad station last night by a throng of well-wishers. Woodcock is the ring king in a one-heavyweight country. He is the best prospect produced here in a decade that started in 1937 when Britton Tommy Farr was defeated by Louis.

After his bout with influenza last month, Woodcock was pronounced completely fit and schooled in secret training to assault Baksi's reputation of having gone down only once and being able to take punishment and counterattack to win.

Baksi confided that he would make the most of Woodcock's reputed invitation to mayhem—an exposed chin when he leads with his left.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

WAY DOWN YONDER: In Thomasville, North Carolina, hundreds of eager, hustling baseball rookies are fighting the greatest battle of their lives, a sometimes discouraging, heart-breaking struggle to make the varsity on one of the numerous minor league ball clubs in the Brooklyn Dodgers' far flung farm system.

It may sound like rank overstatement to refer to competition for minor league berth as a greater battle than G.I.'s experienced during the war—and there are hundreds of veterans trying out for jobs—but it is an odious comparison. War is fought in moments of insanity engendered and inspired by man's basest emotions and men exist in another world, so to speak, while they are in a fighting uniform. The youngsters who are battling in baseball uniforms are sane, healthy, carefree, yet many of them absorb an unbelievable mental and physical beating before they make the team, or are handed a one-way ticket to return home disillusioned and battered in spirits.

These young kids in Thomasville, several of whom will come to Kingston for final pining or permanent places on the Kingston Dodger roster, are lucky enough to be going through the rigorous work-outs under expert baseball men. The Dodgers' farm system is the best in baseball today and Branch Rickey does a thorough job of selecting high class underlings.

Among the managers present at the Brooks' staging area are baseball names like Gregg Mulleavy, Judson Kirke, Larry Kinzer, Clay Bryant, Joe Hauser and Jim Bivin. Mulleavy, who manages Olean, N. Y., in the Pony League, is a former International League home run star who spent several years with the Buffalo Bisons. Jud Kirke is a son of the legendary Jay Kirke, of Fleischmanns. He has been batting around the bus circuits for a long time and presently is anchored with Johnstown, Pa., in the Penn State Association.

Joe Hauser, who pilots Sheboygan, Wis., in the Wisconsin State League, is the old home king of the International League and American Association. Hauser was a legendary home run hitter who cracked better than 60 a season in both Triple A circuits but reversing the immortal words of Mike Gonzales, he was strictly good hit, no field. He had a brief major league fling with Connie Mack and then was sent down the river to terrorize minor league pitchers.

Clay Bryant, Zanesville, Ohio, manager in the Ohio State League, will be recalled as a pitching sensation of the Chicago Cubs. When he came up, Bryant was considered one of the top prospects in the National League. After a sensational freshman season he was plagued by an arm ailment that eventually ruined his pitching career. . . . Larry Kinzer, with Pulasky, Va., in the Virginia-Appalachian League has been identified with the Dodger organization for a long time.

The Dodgers are thorough in their training camps. The first week was devoted to conditioning and batting and fielding practice. At the start of the second week, the hopefuls were divided into six teams and a schedule of three games a day was started, with the first game at 9 a. m.

Meanwhile, the players not participating in the scrub games, are kept busy in the sliding pits, learning the proper way to steal bases, practicing bunting and a hundred other items that must be mastered if a youngster is going to make baseball his lifetime profession.

The pitchers are indoctrinated on methods of holding runners to bases, windups, follow through, curve-ball pitching. In passing it might be interesting too to mention the method used by the Dodgers in teaching the pitchers control.

A combination of strings are set up so as to outline the average strike zone. When not actually working in a game, the pitchers use this device to perfect their control. It is simplicity itself and has proved very effective in the past. This system is credited with converting Joe Hatten from a wild March hare to a topflight pitcher.

Greatest local interest in the Thomasville camp centers, of course, on the day-by-day doings of Bill Glaser, Bob Newhart, Bobby Boyer, "Red" Gorsline, Earl Lane and Lou Corrigan, the Hudson valley youngsters who would like to land right here in Kingston. Manager Scherger is reported optimistic about every one of the area prospects but in the event all make the grade it seems unlikely they will be assigned to Kingston.

TODAY'S SPORT THOUGHT: Destiny lurks around the corner, ready to flatten the cars of the team of miracle men whose chests have begun to cut off the view of their feet.

Troy Woman Leads State B Singles

Syracuse, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—New leaders topped the Class B and Class C singles today in the annual New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

Mildred Connolly, captain of Alpha No. 2 team of Troy, hit 585 to take over Class B leadership. Ruth Allen of Franklinville bowled 537 to take second spot while the week-end leader, Mickey Perry of Utica, fell to third. Her score was 535.

Mildred Barnard of Ithaca moved into fourth, backing up 528. Martha Filkins of Troy rolled 518 to take over first place in Class C Singles.

More than 60 five-women teams rolled last night, but none was able to crash the leaders in the standings.

Two squads of five-women teams, mostly from the Syracuse area, are to bowl tonight.

San Francisco—Paulie Peters, 169½, San Francisco, outpointed Charley Eagle, 173, New York (10).

Jump's Hike Lead In Pin Playoffs

Jump's Market increased its lead over Stone Ridge to three points in the Independent League point playoffs with a three game sweep over Wilber Coal, last night at the Central Recs.

The playoff leaders battered a 2700 series with the aid of a 45-pin handicap, with R. Halbert and Ralph Neville furnishing 607 and 579 respectively.

Halbert's top series of the night included games of 157, 244 and 206. Neville fired 207, 170 and 202 in the anchor slot. Harry Wilber was high for his squad with 532.

Stone Ridge knocked off Vogel's Dairy in three, with Ray Cord shooting high of 546. Charlie Gruenwald had 510 for Vogel's. Callanans, regular league winners, edged Beicherts, 2-1. Orv Van Alstyne shot 212-555 to pace Callanans, while Rudy Kubicek sandwiched a 244 single with 184 and 120 for a 548 series.

With Jack Hartman firing 203-565, Martin's Market grabbed the odd set from Cole's Fish. Milton Cole shot 561 in the leadoff for Cole's.

New Haven—Julie Kogon, 136, New Haven, outpointed Frankie Foley, 138, New Haven (8).

Nolan Urges Handicap For City Tournaments

The handicap system is the salvation of city association tournaments and is the only solution to low-entry annual bowling championships, John J. Nolan, past president of the New York State Bowling Association, said last night at the first post-war banquet of the City Bowling League at Immanuel Hall.

The dinner concluded activities for the 1946-47 season for the city's oldest tenpin circuit following a war-time lapse.

Members of the Colonials were awarded the championship trophy and individual prizes. They capped the title in a runaway race with a record of 69 wins and only 12 losses for a 15-game lead over the second place Jake's Grill.

Peter Keresman, who served as league president for a number of years, was toastmaster. Among the speakers were the Rev. E. L. Witte, pastor of the Immanuel Church; Bert Tandy, Y.M.C.A. secretary, Ed Strong, Central Hudson and Charlie Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman. President Jack Martin, who was re-elected for next year, extended the official welcome to the bowlers and guests.

Low Man Important
Asserting that the low-average kegler is the ones that make bowling possible, Mr. Nolan said they are entitled to bowl on virtually equal terms with the "hotshots" at least once a season. And that is when the annual tournaments are conducted with a handicap system.

Nolan stated that handicap tournaments are the rule rather than the exception throughout the country and he recalled that the city of Albany once was able to gather only 18 teams in Class A without a handicap for annual tournament. With the handicap system, Albany has increased its tournament entry steadily and this season will feature an all-time record of 529 five-man squads.

Nolan urged the individual bowlers to support their annual tournaments and city associations. In organization there is strength, he said, and bowling has not yet attained its peak. He stated that the building of two new establishments in Kingston next season would stimulate bowling interest in the city to an all-time peak and sound organization would be required to cope with the advance.

Prizes Awarded
Arthur Buddenhagen, secretary-treasurer of the league, awarded

prizes for the 1946-47 season, and presented the beautiful team trophy to Pete Keresman, Colonial sponsor.

Members of the Colonial team were Clifton Quick, high average kegler in the loop, Harold Broskie, Lou Hymes, Larry Petersen, Jr., Les Hotaling, Joe Schrowang and Pete Keresman. Each received a small trophy.

Other awards were made to Clifton Quick for high average with 194.55; Burt Burr, Jack's Restaurant, 256 league high single for which he was presented the Kingston Bowling Association medal by Secretary John MacLellan; Clifton Quick, high three games of 669.

The high single winners on each team were: Lou Hymes, Colonials, 254; George Robinson-Gil Sampson, Jake's Grill, 247; E. Alward, Immanuel, 236; John MacLellan, Jones Dairy, 246; Vernon Freese, Livingstons, 243; H. Svitsky,

Gnats Bites Studied

Whether Scottish midges (or gnats) bite more fiercely than the English species is the problem before four scientists of the Scottish Department of Health in Edinburgh. They go daily into the open permitting midges to bite them, so they may watch them in the act and make full notes. Some visitors to Scotland have originated the theory that the way that most active of leaping dances, the Highland fling, originated, was from Scottish kilts and midges.

Four New Pilots, 23 Rookies Await Major League Opening

New York, April 15 (AP)—Despite the decreed absence of Lippy Leo Durocher, the 1947 major league campaign starting today is expected to produce the greatest baseball fireworks in many years.

When Jackie Robinson trots out to his first base position for the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field he will be the first Negro to play in the major leagues since the turn of the century. Twenty-two other promising rookies also start their big league careers today.

Stunned by the banishment of Durocher by Commissioner A. B. Chandler last Wednesday, President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers hasn't found a replacement yet. He confirmed yesterday a report that he had tried without success to obtain Joe McCarthy, former New York Yankee skipper. Clyde Sukeforth, manager pro tem in the last three exhibition games, was slated to direct the team today.

Four New Managers
Meanwhile, four new managers are making their bow. Bucky Harris, although not a new face on the managerial scene since he has handled four big league clubs in the past 23 years, takes on his fifth when he leads the Yankees against the Philadelphia Athletics at the Yankee Stadium.

Herold (Muddy) Ruel, who gave up a job as assistant to Chandler, will start a rebuilding program at St. Louis with the Browns. Billy Herman, already beset with the injury jinx when Elbie Fletcher sprained an ankle which is expected to keep the first baseman out for at least three weeks, will attempt to combine playing and managing at Pittsburgh. Johnny Neun, who learned his baseball under McCarthy, and who followed Marse Joe as Yankee leader for several weeks last season, will get a real chance at Cincinnati.

Yanks Without DiMaggio.
The New York Yankees, for instance, will be handicapped without Joe DiMaggio, their number one hitter, who is recovering from an operation.

The New York Giants suffered a serious blow to their hopes of a first division finish when Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, highly promising rookie centerfielder, and tabbed by experts as a "can't miss kid," broke a leg in an exhibition. The Detroit Tigers were slated to start without Dick Wakefield, the power hitter, who pulled a muscle and will miss several games.

Fletcher's injury caused Herman to change his winter plans which had Hank Greenberg, his big home run hitter, in left field. The former Tiger slugger and American League home run king last year, has been very happy about his change from first to the outfield but must return to his former position until Fletcher is ready to take over. The Cleveland Indians, minus their star centerfielder, Hank Edwards, who dislocated a shoulder several weeks ago, will start with a rookie, Dale Mitchell.

An estimated 281,400 fans are expected to jam their way to the four opening games in each circuit and thus shatter the previous high of 246,010 established in 1931.

About 200,000 people are engaged full time in the U. S. fishing industry.

Major League Banquet Postponed One Week

The annual banquet of the Central Major Bowling League, originally scheduled for Thursday, April 17, has been postponed until April 24, "Hod" Spaulding, league president, announced today.

The postponement was necessitated the president said, by inability to secure guest speakers and entertainment on the original date. The banquet which will honor the Hotel Ulster keggers as league champions, will be held at DeCicco's Restaurant on High street.

Pacific Movies, Special Menu at Legion Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, when the membership drive will be discussed, and special entertainment will be furnished.

During the social hour there will be U. S. Navy movies of the Pacific operations and special refreshments will be served. The new snack bar, recently installed, will be open for inspection.

Kaiser Plane Wrecked

Palm Springs, Calif., April 15 (AP)—The private plane of industrialist Henry Kaiser slewed off a landing strip here last night and was wrecked but Kaiser and his two sons, Edgar and Henry Jr., escaped injury. Pilot Jean Hoffman the Kaisers declined to discuss the accident.

Eleanora Duse began her acting career at the age of four.

Martins 'Bury' Undertakers in Special Match

The Undertakers were buried on the highly polished 3 and 4 drives Saturday night at the Central Recs, but don't get excited, folks. The Woodstock Undertaker keggers who dropped a 91-pin decision to Martin's Market in a special match are not to be confused with the Hermann Undertakers, of St. Louis, current leaders in the national A.B.C. in Los Angeles.

Martin's packed a 2561 series against 2470 for the artist village trundlers to win the deciding series in a set of three. Roland Post fired the high triple of the match with 208-162-194-564. K. Snyder was high for Woodstockers, rolled high single of 214.

The large crowd agreed that while the Undertakers might not be in a class with the Hermanns, they looked mighty sharp with white shirts and bright scarlet bowties.

Cincinnati Glee Club Shows Dynamic Power

Dynamics and fortissimo passages made the Kingston High School Auditorium ring last night as the University of Cincinnati Glee Club of 122 voices strong gave a concert. The program was sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church who were able to present the club only through special arrangements made with Sherwood Kains, director, who is conducting the group on its spring tour.

Most of the numbers demanded great crescendos in tone. Cesar Franck's "Blessed Be" (Benedictus) gave the male chorus opportunity to express itself and was joined in the last section by a glorious interweaving of the soprano and alto parts. A great deal of tonal color was used in the Carillon of Kharov by Gains. Probably one of the finest performances was of "The Creation by Richter with its chance for dramatic interpretation.

The latter part of the program was much lighter with folk songs and several novelties. The Six Foot Four quartet sang a medley of Gay 90's tunes and also "America Take It Away." The trumpet trio played "The Blue Jackets", by Williams; and a group of the singers with Claire Gundersman as soloist did a waltz while the club sang "Tales from the Vienna Woods by Strauss. During the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic by Howells, the audience was asked to join the chorus. The final numbers, school songs, were a background for Don Poynter, national champion balon twirler.

The soloists were exceptional. Betty Lee Goetz, co-winner of the W.L.W. Scholarship of the College of Music of Cincinnati, was the soprano soloist with a warm rich voice. She sang "Blue Are Her Eyes by Watts; Spanish Serenade (Come Love With Me) by Corneville; One Fine Day from "Madame Butterfly", Puccini. She also did the incidental solo in the Italian Street Song.

The concert was a triumph for Robert Wolfersteig, accompanist, who only last year was accompanying the Kingston High School Choir on the same stage. He was introduced by Mr. Kains who paid tribute to the youthful pianist, saying he was the best accompanist the university had and that he had been working with the group just the one year he has been in college. He was presented with a glee club key which is usually given only after three years of perfect attendance and unusual ability. Mr. Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig, Connolly, was graduated from Kingston High School last June and is majoring in organ at the conservatory.

Tillie Taylor's Stars Here Saturday Against Kaye Sportswair

Ex-W.I.B.C. Champ Is Rated Among Bowling's Finest

Tillie Taylor, of Englewood, N.J., one of America's most famous women bowlers will lead an all-star metropolitan aggregation against Kaye Sportswair Saturday night at the Central Recs at 8:30.

Miss Taylor, a former W.I.B.C. and World-Telegram Individual Classic champion, is regarded as one of the greatest women bowlers of all time.

Appearing with the Taylor All Stars will be four metropolitan standouts — Eleanor Thompson, Pauline Baiga, Dot McGovern and Marion Kaiser. The first three were members of the American Bowling and Billiards women's squad, while Mrs. Kaiser is a veteran performer regarded as New Jersey's best.

All five members of the Taylor squad are averaging better than 170 in the Metropolitan Major League. Miss Taylor anchors the powerful Trent Bar Five which is battling the Hillenbachs for first place.

Kaye's Without Moore
After being forced to roll Schenectady without Rose Schatzel last weekend, the Kaye squad will be without the services of their stellar leadoff—Evelyn Moore—for Saturday's crucial test. Miss Moore will be rolling in the state tournament in Syracuse.

Taylor's squad is rated the most colorful in the East. The five women are not only topflight bowlers but excellent showmen and put on a real show.

Kaye's with a record of 13 victories in 14 matches are definitely on the spot against the high-powered aggregation but the locals are not overawed by the record of their opponents. The Sportswair combination showed its class several weeks ago when it downed the famous Hillenbachs with a 2700 series.

Governor Signs Bill Curbing Pro Boxing

Albany, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—All participants in professional boxing and wrestling matches in New York state must be licensed under a new law.

The measure, signed yesterday by Governor Dewey, writes into state law present State Athletic Commission requirements and makes violations punishable as misdemeanors. It is effective immediately.

Required to obtain licenses are professional boxers and wrestlers, managers, trainers, seconds, physicians, referees, judges, matchmakers, timekeepers, corporation treasurers, box office employees, announcers and special policemen.

Republican Senator Irwin Palka of Long Island City, the sponsor, said the bill was aimed at "undercover managers."

The maximum penalty for a misdemeanor is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

Baksi-Woodcock Heavyweight Bout In London Tonight

London, April 15 (AP)—The goal of their ring careers—a fight with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight title—is just around the ring-posts in the ten-round bout tonight between Bruce Woodcock and Joe Baksi.

Nat Rogers, New York matchmaker, promised to be one of the first into the winner's dressing room with a contract for the new white hope to tackle the Brown Bomber in America next June.

Nearly 11,000 fans, paying 21 pounds ($84) for ringside pews in Harringay Arena, will cheer Woodcock in his crusade to make Baksi, former Pennsylvania coal miner, just another ex-challenger for the heavyweight crown.

The 26-year-old British champion was the first to check into London from his training camp and was welcomed at the railroad station last night by a throng of well-wishers. Woodcock is the ring king in a one-heavyweight country. He is the best prospect produced here in a decade that started in 1937 when Britton Tommy Farr was defeated by Louis.

After his bout with influenza last month, Woodcock was pronounced completely fit and schooled in secret training to assault Baksi's reputation of having gone down only once and being able to take punishment and counterattack with a winning smile.

Baksi confided that he would make the most of Woodcock's reputed invitation to mayhem—an exposed chin when he leads with his left.

Tellier Seeks Fourth Place

Julius Tellier can clinch fourth place in the city pocket billiard tournament when he meets Bob East at the Kulich Parlor at 7:30 this evening.

Tellier's victory tonight would give him fourth place, and would land Markle in the fifth money spot.

'Y' Volleyball Aces To Battle Newburgh

The Y.M.C.A. Business Men's volleyball squad will meet the fast Newburgh club at the Y.M.C.A. gym tonight at 8:15. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Kingston will be represented by veteran standouts Chet Dolson, Jim Volker, Bing Van Etten, and Lou Schaffer, spikers; and Warren Smith, Ed Minasian, Billy Hopper, Dan Shufeldt and Ted Young, set-up men.

The match is the second of the season for Kingston which dropped its opener against Poughkeepsie, three games to two.

In the usual order are Les Hotelling, Larry Petersen, Jr., Pete Keresman, team sponsor; Harold Broskie; Art

Buddenhage, secretary-treasurer, who made the presentation and Clifton Quick, high average man with 115. The Colonials won 69 games and lost only 11. Lou Hynes and Joe Schrowang, other members of the Colonial team were absent when the photo was taken.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

WAY DOWN YONDER: In Thomasville, North Carolina, hundreds of eager, hustling baseball rookies are fighting the greatest battle of their lives, a sometimes discouraging, heart-breaking struggle to make the varsity on one of the numerous minor league ball clubs in the Brooklyn Dodgers' far flung farm system.

It may sound like rank overstatement to refer to competition for minor league baseball berth as a greater battle than G.I.'s experienced during the war—and there are hundreds of veterans trying out for jobs—but it is an odious comparison. War is fought in moments of insanity engendered and inspired by man's basest emotions and men exist in another world, so to speak, while they are in a fighting uniform. The youngsters who are battling in baseball uniforms are sane, healthy, carefree, yet many of them absorb an unbelievable mental and physical beating before they make the team, or are handed a one-way ticket to return home disillusioned and battered in spirits.

These young kids in Thomasville, several of whom will come to Kingston for final pining or placement places on the Kingston Dodger roster, are lucky enough to be going through the rigorous workouts under expert baseball men. The Dodgers' farm system is the best in baseball today and Branch Rickey does a thorough job of selecting high class underlings.

Among the managers present at the Brooks' staging area are baseball names like Gregg Mulheavy, Judson Kirke, Larry Kirke, Clay Bryant, Joe Hauser and Jim Bivin. Mulheavy, who manages Olean, N. Y., in the Pony League, is a former International League home run star who spent several years with the Buffalo Bisons. Judson Kirke is a son of the legendary Jay Kirke, of Fleischmanns. He has been battling around the bus circuits for a long time and presently is anchored with Johnstown, Pa., in the Penn State Association.

Joe Hauser, who pilots Sheboygan, Wis., in the Wisconsin State League, is the old home run king of the International League and American Association. Hauser was a legendary home run hitter who cracked better than 60 a season in both Triple A circuits but reversing the immortal words of Mike Gonzales, he was strictly good hit, no field. He had a brief major league fling with Connie Mack and then was sent down the river to terrorize minor league pitchers.

Clay Bryant, Zanesville, Ohio, manager in the Ohio State League, will be recalled as a pitching sensation of the Chicago Cubs. When he came up, Bryant was considered one of the top prospects in the National League. After a sensational freshman season he was plagued by an arm ailment that eventually ruined his pitching career. . . . Larry Kinzer, with Pulaski, Va., in the Virginia-Appalachian League has been identified with the Dodger organization for a long time.

The Dodgers are thorough in their training camps. The first week was devoted to conditioning and batting and fielding practice. At the start of the second week, the hopefuls were divided into six teams and a schedule of three games a day was started, with the first game at 9 a. m.

Meanwhile, the players not participating in the scrub games, are kept busy in the sliding pits, learning the proper way to steal bases, practicing hunting and a hundred other items that must be mastered if a youngster is going to make baseball his lifetime profession.

The pitchers are indoctrinated on methods of holding runners to bases, windups, follow through, curve-ball pitching. In passing it might be interesting too to mention the method used by the Dodgers in teaching the pitchers control.

A combination of strings are set up so as to outline the average strike zone. When not actually working in a game, the pitchers use this device to perfect their control. It is simplicity itself and has proved very effective in the past. This system is credited with converting Joe Hatten from a wild March hare to a twilight local.

The greatest local interest in the Thomasville camp centers, of course, on the day-by-day doings of Bill Glaser, Bob Newhart, Bobby Royer, "Red" Gorsline, Earl Lane and Lou Corrigan, the Hudson valley youngsters who would like to land right here in Kingston. Manager Scherger is reported optimistic about every one of the area prospects but in the event all make the grade it seems unlikely they will be assigned to Kingston.

TODAY'S SPORT THOUGHT: Destiny lurks around the corner, ready to flatten the ears of the team of miracle men whose chests have begun to cut off the view of their feet.

Troy Woman Leads State B Singles

Syracuse, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—New leaders topped the Class B and Class C singles today in the annual New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

Mildred Connolly, captain of Alpha No. 2 team of Troy, hit 589 to take over Class B leadership. Ruth Allen of Franklinville bowled 537 to take second spot while the week-end leader, Mickey Perry of Utica, fell to third. Her score was 535.

Mildred Barnard of Ithaca moved into fourth, backing up 528. Martha Filkins of Troy rolled 518 to take over first place in Class C Singles.

More than 60 five-women teams rolled last night, but none was able to crash the leaders in the standings.

Two squads of five-women teams, mostly from the Syracuse area, are to bowl tonight.

San Francisco—Paulie Peters 169½, San Francisco, outpointed Charley Eagle, 173, New York (10).

Nolan Urges Handicap For City Tournaments

The handicap system is the salvation of city association tournaments and is the only solution to low-entry annual bowling championships, John J. Nolan, past president of the New York State Bowling Association, said last night at the first post-war banquet of the City Bowling League at Immanuel Hall.

The dinner concluded activities for the 1946-47 season for the city's oldest tenpin circuit following a war-time lull.

Members of the Colonials were awarded the championship trophy and individual prizes. They topped the title in a runaway race with a record of 69 wins and only 12 losses for a 15-game lead over the second place Jake's Grill.

Pete Keresman, who served as league president for a number of years, was toastmaster. Among the speakers were the Rev. E. L. Witte, pastor of the Immanuel Church; Burt Tandy, Y.M.C.A. secretary, Ed Strong, Central Hudson and Charlie Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman. President Jack Martin, who was re-elected for next year, extended the official welcome to the bowlers and guests.

Low Man Important
Asserting that the low-average bowlers are the ones that make bowling possible, Mr. Nolan said they are entitled to bowl on virtually equal terms with the "hot-shots" at least once a season. And that is when the annual tournaments are conducted with a handicap system.

Nolan stated that handicap tournaments are the rule rather than the exception throughout the country and he recalled that the city of Albany once was able to gather only 18 teams in Class A without a handicap for annual tournament. With the handicap system, Albany has increased its tournament entry steadily and this season will feature an all-time record of 529 five-man squads.

Nolan urged the individual bowlers to support their annual tournaments and city associations. In organization there is strength, he said, and bowling has not yet attained its peak. He stated that the building of two new establishments in Kingston next season would stimulate bowling interest in the city to an all-time peak and sound organization would be required to cope with the advance.

Prizes Awarded
Arthur Buddenhagen, secretary-treasurer of the league, awarded

prizes for the 1946-47 season, and presented the beautiful team trophy to Pete Keresman, Colonial sponsor.

Members of the Colonial team were Clifton Quick, high average bowler in the loop, Harold Broskie, Lou Hynes, Larry Petersen, Jr., Les Hotelling, Joe Schrowang and Pete Keresman. Each received a small trophy.

Other awards were made to Clifton Quick for high average with 194.55; Burt Barr, Jake's Restaurant, 256 league high single for which he was presented the Kingston Bowling Association medal by Secretary John MacLellan; Clifton Quick, high three games of 669.

The high single winners on each team were: Lou Hynes, Colonials, 254; George Robinson-Gil, Sampson, Jake's Grill, 247; E. Alward, Immanuel, 236; John MacLellan, Jones Dairy, 246; Vernon Froese, Livingstons, 243; H. Swirsky, Steins, 248; Jack Haulenbeck, Central Hudson, 245; Tom Rowland, Y.M.C.A., 236; Randy Dixon, Bull Market, 235.

The captain's trophy for the Colonial bowler shooting the highest single in the city tournament was awarded Clifton Quick for a 266 solo.

Four New Pilots, 23 Rookies Await Major League Opening

New York, April 15 (AP)—Despite the decreed absence of Lippy Lee Durocher, the 1947 major league campaign starting today is expected to produce the greatest baseball fireworks in many years.

When Jackie Robinson trots out to his first base position for the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field he will be the first Negro to play in the major leagues since the turn of the century. Twenty-two other promising rookies also start their big league careers today.

Stunned by the banishment of Durocher by Commissioner A. B. Chandler last Wednesday, President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers hasn't found a replacement yet. He confirmed yesterday a report that he had tried without success to obtain Joe McCarthy, former New York Yankee skipper, Clyde Sisker, fourth manager pro tem in the last three exhibition games, was slated to direct the team today.

Four New Managers

Meanwhile, four new managers are making their bow. Buckey Harris, although not a new face on the managerial scene since he has headed four big league clubs in the past 23 years, takes on the fifth when he leads the Yankees against the Philadelphia Athletics at the Yankee Stadium.

Herold (Muddy) Ruel who gave up a job as assistant to Chandler, will start a rebuilding program at St. Louis with the Browns. Billy Herman, already beset with the injury pnx when Edgar Fletcher appeared an rookie which is expected to keep the first baseman out for at least three weeks, will attempt to combine playing and managing at Pittsburgh. Johnny Neun, who learned his baseball under McCarthy, and who followed Marse Joe as Yankee leader for several weeks last season, will get a real chance at Cincinnati.

Yanks Without DiMaggio

The New York Yankees, for instance, will be handicapped without Joe DiMaggio, their number one hitter, who is recovering from an operation.

The New York Giants suffered a serious blow to their hopes of a first division finish when Carroll (Whitey) Lockman, highly promising rookie centerfielder and tabbed by experts as a "can't miss kid," broke a leg in an exhibition.

The Detroit Tigers were slated to start without Dick Wakefield, the power hitter, who pulled a muscle and will miss several games.

Fletcher's injury caused Herman to change his winter plans which had Hank Greenberg, his big home run hitter, in left field. The former Tiger slugger and American League home run king last year, has been very happy about his change from first to the outfield but must return to his former position until Fletcher is ready to take over.

The Cleveland Indians, minus their star centerfielder, Hank Edwards, who dislocated a shoulder several weeks ago, will start with a rookie, Dale Mitchell.

An estimated 281,400 fans are expected to jam their way to the four opening games in each circuit and thus shatter the previous high of 236,019 established in 1931.

About 200,000 people are engaged full time in the U. S. fishing industry.

Major League Banquet Postponed One Week

The annual banquet of the Central Major Bowling League, originally scheduled for Thursday, April 17, has been postponed until April 24, "Hod" Spaulding, league president, announced today.

The postponement was necessitated by the president's inability to secure guest speakers and entertainment on the original date. The banquet which will honor the Hotel Ulster kiegler as league champions, will be held at DeCicco's Restaurant on High street.

Pacific Movies, Special Menu at Legion Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, when the membership drive will be discussed, and special entertainment will be furnished.

During the social hour there will be U. S. Navy movies of the Pacific operations and special refreshments will be served. The new snack bar, recently installed, will be open for inspection.

Kaiser Plane Wrecked

Palm Springs, Calif., April 15 (AP)—The private plane of industrialist Henry Kaiser, which was wrecked but Kaiser and his two sons, Edgar and Henry Jr., escaped injury. Pilot Jean Hoffman the Kaisers declined to discuss the accident.

Eleanor Duse began her acting career at the age of four.

Martins 'Bury' Undertakers in Special Match

The Undertakers were buried on the highly polished 3 and 4 drives Saturday night at the Central Recs, but don't get excited, folks. The Woodstock Undertaker kiegler who dropped a 91-pin decision to Martin's Market in a special match are not to be confused with the Hermann Undertakers, of St. Louis, current leaders in the national A.B.C. in Los Angeles.

Martin's packed a 2561 series against 2470 for the artist village trundlers to win the deciding series in a set of three. Roland Post fired the high triple of the match with 208-162-194-564. K. Snyder was high for Woodstock with 542. Yulu, of the Undertakers, rolled high single of 214.

The large crowd agreed that while the Undertakers might not be in a class with the Hermanns, they looked mighty sharp with white shirts and bright scarlet bow ties.
